Books Are Valuable in More Than One Way

IN 1735 A MIGRANT from the British Isles landed at Charles Town in the colony of South Carolina, and almost immediately began to look westward, toward the interior of the continent, toward the country that is now Tennessee. His name was James Adair and he was a man of unusual talents and disposition: Educated, curious, observant, courageous, vain, intemperate, a loyal friend or foe. He has been called by some historians Tennessee's first author.

The Overhill country of the Cherokees and the area inhabited by the Chickasaws (Adair's favorite tribe) knew many traders and colonial officials during the time of this man's life there, but the thing that set Adair's experience apart and made it important in history was the fact that he wrote a book about it. Published in London in 1775, its story is interesting not only as part of our past but as a subject of monetary investment.

Only a few years ago a copy of Adair's "History of the American Indians" in the original edition sold for $350 from a dealer's catalog, and another sold at auction for $425. Recently a similar copy brought a price of $1100. What stocks or bonds or other investments showed such an increase in value in this short a period? It is pleasant to know that people who value books, and treasure their presence in home and office and library may sometimes find not only rewards of intellectual and spiritual enrichment but also profit to their purses.

In fact, there are those who own books only because they believe them to be financially valuable. I shall never forget my first encounter with such a Midas. A well known financial tycoon, this urbane and interesting man seemed to have wide-ranging artistic and literary tastes. As he mentioned the works of various authors which were in his library (or so I assumed), I was struck by the fact that he always mentioned that the book he owned was a first edition, or a special limited edition with author's autograph or illustrations. Then I made the mistake of asking him if he liked a certain novel.

"Oh, I haven't read it," he replied jauntily. "That might harm its pristine present condition. That author is going to be a literary light, I'm sure. I wrapped the book in protective material and have it in my collection room."

Several years later he gave part of that collection to a large university; its worth was impressive. I suppose he was the opposite extreme of most of the general public who believe that books are "worthless" except for their content.

Perhaps, then, this discussion of books as investments can be interpreted as an invitation to prize the physical object itself at least as highly as sterling cutlery and fine rugs and even the nonsense bric-a-brac with which we clutter our houses. Consider the increased price tag on many county histories in our own region. How valiantly a woman in Cocke County, retired school teacher and legislator Lady Ruth Webb O'Dell, had to struggle before she could gather enough support to publish her history, "Over the Misty Blue Hills," which now may sell for $50, $75, $90, depending on the person lucky enough (or farsighted enough) to own an extra copy.

Most used books, like most used furniture or cars or anything else that has served its primary purpose, are worth very little. But for anyone who wishes to combine pleasure and profit with nominal sums of financial investment, books still offer an interesting field. In a recent article on the subject, one knowledgeable collector suggested: "Newly collectible authors, new private presses, new ideas, new technologies all add to the store of future and potential rarities. Every author begins as an unknown, and if you genuinely like his or her work, buy it and add a copy of every first edition title by that author to your library, and you will have the pleasure of owning and rereading them, along with the comfortable realization — as the world catches on — that you were among those who were 'there first' in detecting this particular signature of the writer and his times."

If you are a book lover but have never thought of your possessions as investments, the writer says, "You might as well realize that their value may be considerable; and when you add to your collection in the future, you may do so with an eye to the realities of the marketplace. I would hope that your love for books would not be at all affected by this extra dimension of value; it need not be, and in fact it can actually enhance that personal environment of your library, which you have created with such expense, care and loving attentiveness."

When you invest in the works of some of Tennessee's youngest writers who now deserve your attention, remember the recent return on a book by Tennessee's first author — and consider that their books may be no less valuable than James Adair's.

PART I.

Many years have rolled away since the stirring scenes of the Revolution were acted but the brilliant events of that period will live on the pages of history.

The names of those Revolutionary Soldiers who espoused the popular cause and threw the whole weight of their power and influence on the side of Liberty, are on the Nation's Roll of Honor.

While the Revolutionary Army of Georgia was small compared to many other Colonies, it was our State, Georgia, which offered land in quantity as an inducement to Revolutionary Soldiers of all the States to settle in Georgia.

Truly we can say these Revolutionary Soldiers from Georgia and the other Colonies helped to secure for us our glorious heritage.

Hiram, soldier of the War of 1812, who lived in Morgan and Upton Counties, Ga.; 4. Jones (?); 5. Elizabeth, married Giles Garrett; 6. William of Morgan County; 7. Mary, married John Apperson; 8. Farmer of Morgan County; 9. Susannah; 10. Sarah, died young; 11. James, married Sarah Dean. Joseph appears in the Jackson County records from Aug. 3, 1800, when he was living on the Apalachee River (deed of Micajah Williamson as attorney for George Sibbald to John Davis, for adjoining land) and Bozeman Adair is found in Jackson County from 1801, and Benjamin from 1802. In the 1805 Jackson Lottery list, were Isaac, Jacob and Bozeman (who obtained headright land in 1810). Robert Sidney Adair married in 1774 Elizabeth (Posey) the widow Huffman and moved from Virginia to South Carolina. They had a son Robert S. Adair, born c1783, who married Martha Lafevre, daughter of Milliner (Key) Letcher Lefevre. (James Letcher married Milly Key, Jan. 6, 1771, in Amherst County, Va., with the consent of her father, Henry Key. The Adairs and Keys were associated as early as William Adair's 1763 Augusta County will when he named his daughter Sarah Keys). Robert S. Adair and his sister Nancy who married Samuel Maloney moved from Laurens, S. C., to Gwinnett County and about 1818 and Robert and Samuel both enumerated there in 1820. Some four years later, George R. Adair, whose son Isaac was born in Laurens in 1808 and who married Nancy, daughter of Samuel B. Farrow of Spartanburg County, S. C., moved to Gwinnett County. During the 1840s, Isaac moved to Russell County, Ala., and later to Texas. Robert's son William M. was killed at Gettysburg. Nancy Adair of Laurens married 1817 Robert Craig, born 1794, who also moved to Gwinnett County. Nancy was born May 1, 1801 and died July 26, 1888. Ruth Adair, apparently a widow, on Oct. 1, 1806, sold to Samuel Stewart 100 acres on the North Fork of Oconee River in Jackson County, where the family at that time intermarried with the McCords, the Williamses and the Oakses. John and the widow Jane Adair were in Henry County, Ga., in 1827, and John B. was in Madison County's lottery that year. William M. left a will in Jackson County.

GREETINGS, FRIENDS AND FELLOW RELATIVES OF JOSEPH ADAIR

Today, October 9, 1988, we come to Duncans Creek Presbyterian Church Cemetery to dedicate a monument to Joseph Adair. Very little details of the life of Joseph Adair is known except by tradition and secondary sources.

According to tradition and to Dr. J. B. Adair's Adair Family History, we learn that Joseph Adair and his family settled in the Duncans Creek section of what later became Laurens County around 1755 or shortly thereafter. Duncans Creek Presbyterian Church was formed in 1764. In 1768-1769 Joseph Adair, Andrew McCrory, and Robert Hanna were elected Elders here at Duncan Creek. On December 3, 1766, the Deputy Surveyor General receipted a request for a survey of Joseph Adair. This was done on March 7, 1769 recorded in Colonial Plats Vol 9 at page 341. Thus a land grant of 200 acres was granted to Joseph Adair on Miller Creek on June 2, 1769 recorded in Royal Grants Vol. 18 at page 299. Later on February 2, 1768 a receipt was received of Joseph Adair and a survey and plat was prepared on February 26, 1769 for 250 acres on Duncans Creek recorded in Colonial Plats Vol 11 at page 483. This grant of 250 acres was dated November 27, 1770 and recorded in Royal Grants Vol 21 at page 349. A third request or warrant was received from Joseph Adair dated December 7, 1768. This survey and plat are dated March 1, 1769 and recorded in Colonial Plats Vol 13 at page 6. This resulted in a third grant to Joseph Adair on September 13, 1774 recorded in Royal Grants Vol. 33 at page 471.

We do not know if all three grants were to the same Joseph Adair or not. We know that Joseph Adair, Sr. had a son Joseph Adair, Jr. and according to a petition in support of Col. James Williams who was killed at the battle of Kings Mountain in 1781, Joseph Adair, Joseph Adair, Sr. and Joseph Adair, Jr. were members of the Little River Regt. and signed this petition. However, the first and third grants in time seemed to be adjoining to each other. Through other secondary sources including Dr. J. B. Adair's History, we have learned that Joseph Adair was Commissary of Co. D in the Patroit forces and that Joseph Adair, Jr. was deputy Commissary of Co. D. In other words, they were the quartermaster and paymaster of their outfit.

On March 19, 1785, the South Carolina legislature passed Act #1274 recorded in Vol IV of Statutes at Large at page 674 establishing a College at Winnsborough, a College in the City of Charleston, and a College at Ninety Six. This act named Joseph Adair of Duncans Creek and Major Thomas Pickney among others as Trustees of Cambridge College at Ninety Six. This act also named two signers of The Declaration of Independence, namely Thomas Hayward, Jr. and Arthur Middleton and three signers of the U. S. Constitution, namely John Rutledge, Charles Pickney and Charles Cotesworth Pickney among others to the board of Trustees of College of Charleston. This puts Joseph Adair of Duncans Creek in strong and historial company, dont you think?

Going back to the land grants, Union County Historical Foundation Land Grant Map does not have these three land grants and plats drawn in but does have Joseph Adair name and the 1770 grant of 250 acres shown as being around Duncan Creek Church and Cemetery.

This land grant map also shows Joseph Adair on the south of James Adair and John Adair grants in the area that we know as the John E. Adair or Shed Adair Homeplace on Hwy 72 now belongs to the heirs of John Lloyd Adair where my mother Lois Susan Adair Young was raised.

From the will of Joseph Adair dated January 9, 1788 and recorded in Will Book A at page 19 in Laurens County, we learn that he named as devisees, his wife Susanna (the former Susana Long), his three living sons, namely Joseph, James, and Benjamin, his daughters Jean Ramage, and Sarah Adair, and Mary Owins who he must have raised as a daughter and Robert Long. (Some historians have expounded that Mary Owins and Robert Long were children of Susannah Adair by a previous marriage to Daniel Long.) However, Joseph Adair must have considered Mary Owins as a daughter. Also from Joseph Adair will, he considered his occupation as a Cooper or barrel maker. This might be a little misleading. In reading what history of commerce we have of that day, we learn that all shipments of skins, hides, tobacco, flour, and etc, were in barrells. This was done so that they could float and was the tradition of that day.

We do not know the exact date of death of Joseph Adair but we know he was living on January 9, 1788 when he made his will. The 1790 U. S. Census of Laurens County list only 2 Joseph Adairs. Therefore, it is assumed that Joseph Adair died before the 1790 Census was made.

The heirs and descendents of Joseph Adair intermarried into and are included in an almost complete Alphabet of surnames found in the lower part of Laurens County; namely, of course Adair, Anderson, Baldwin, Bell, Briggs, Copeland, Davidson, Dillard, Ellis, Farr, Finney, Flow, George, Hays, Henry, Holland, Jacks, Johnson, Jones, King, Leak, Little, McCrary, McMillian, Mason, Meadows, Nabors, Neighbors, Owens, Pitts, Ramage, Ray, Stone, Taylor, Tumblin, Vance, Weir, and of course Young.

These descendents are included in the professions of: Farmers, Merchants, Bankers, Doctor of Medicine, Nurses, Doctors of Pharmacy,

Doctors of Veterinary Medicine, Lawyers, School Teachers, Engineers, Politicians on the local, county and state level including the
S. C. Legislature, Employees of the United States in the Armed Forces, Department of Commerce, Post Office Department and The Internal Revenue.
Yes, we have had at least one tax collector in the Family. Descendents of Joseph Adair, like him before us, have served on Trustee Boards of Schools and Colleges. Lastly, there have been some flunkies like myself in the family. Thank you and God Speed.

Respectfully submitted,

No. 1274. AN ACT FOR ERECTING AND ESTABLISHING A COLLEGE AT THE VILLAGE OF WINNSBOROUGH, IN THE DISTRICT OF CAMDEN, A COLLEGE IN OR NEAR THE CITY OF CHARLESTON, AND A COLLEGE AT NINETY-SIX, IN THE DISTRICT OF NINETY-SIX, IN THE STATE OF SOUTH CAROLINA.

WHEREAS, the proper education of youth is essential to the happiness and prosperity of every community; and is therefore an object well worthy the attention of this Legislature; and whereas, the incorporated Mount Zion Society have petitioned this House that a college may be erected and established by law at the village of Wmnsborough, in this State, for the instruction of youth in the learned languages and the liberal arts and sciences, and that the said college may be committed to the management, direction, and government of trustees, to be chosen and appointed by the said society out of their number:

I. Be it therefore enacted, by the honorable the Senate and House of Representatives, and by the authority of the same, That there be erected and established, and hereby is erected and established, at the village of Wmnsborough, in the district of Camden, in this State, a college for the education of youth in the learned and foreign languages, and in the liberal arts and sciences, under the style, name, and title, of the "Mount Zion College."

Mount Zion college established.

II. And whereas, it is much desired by many well disposed persons that a public seminary of learning for the education of youth should be established in or near Charleston, and it is not doubted but that many persons will contribute largely towards the same, if a proper piece of ground was appropriated for that purpose, and a law passed for empowering commissioners to receive such donations, and for erecting a college as soon as a sufficient sum shall be raised for that purpose; Be it therefore enacted by the authority aforesaid, That his Excellency the Governor for the time being, his honor the Lieutenant Governor for the time being, the honorable John Lloyd, Daniel Desaussure, Daniel Bourdeaux, David Olyphant, Arnoldus Vanderhorst, Joseph Atkinson, John Rutledge, John Mathews, Richard Hutson, and Thomas Heyward, junior, Esquires, Thomas Bee, David Ramsay, Arthur Middleton, Gabriel Manigault, Ralph Izard, William Smith, Charles Pinckney, Richard Baresford, Charles Cotesworth Pinckney, and Hugh Rutledge, Esquires, and the reverend Robert Smith, or a majority of them, and their successors to be elected in manner herein-after directed, shall forever be one body politic and corporate, in deed and made for the government of the said college, and shall have full power to fill up any vacancies which may happen in the said incorporated body of trustees, by the death, resignation, or removal out of this State of any of its members; and shall in all other respects have the same powers and authorities, and enjoy the same immunities, rights, and privileges, to which either of the said corporations of Winnsborough and Charleston colleges are entitled by this Act; anything herein contained to the contrary notwithstanding.

V. And be it further enacted by the authority aforesaid, That the charters or constitutions of the said colleges respectively, shall be, and they are hereby declared to be, as is hereinafter mentioned and defined, that is to say:

1. The said college at Winnsborough shall be under the management, direction, and government of thirteen trustees, or a quorum or Board thereof, as hereinafter established, to be chosen, appointed, and perpetuated, as hereinafter directed; and the said college at Charleston shall be under the management, direction, and government of twenty-three trustees, or a quorum or Board thereof, to be chosen, appointed, and perpetuated as followeth; that the said trustees and their successors forever, shall meet on the first Monday of February in every year, at the State House in Charleston, until the said college shall be erected, and afterwards at the college hall, between the hours of nine and two, and that the major part of those so met shall choose a president, and such other officers, ministers, and servants, as they shall think necessary, for the year ensuing; that the said president and officers so chosen shall then and there take an oath for the due and faithful execution of their office, to be administered to them by any justice of the peace; that on the death, resignation, or removal of the said trustees or their successors, or any person chosen to any of the said offices, the president shall, within one month thereafter, cause the members thereof to be summoned to meet at the usual place, at such time as he shall think proper, not less than five nor more than ten days after such notice, and the trustees meeting in pursuance of such summons, or a majority of them, shall choose another trustee or officer in the room of the person so dying, resigning, or removing, who shall be vested with the same powers and privileges which his predecessor or predecessors held, enjoyed, or was entitled to; and the said trustees shall also meet quarterly at the State House in Charleston, until the said college shall be erected, and afterwards in the college hall, between the hours of nine and two, to transact the business thereof, under the penalty of one pound for every neglect, unless he shall make a satisfactory excuse for such non-attendance at the next quarterly meeting.

2. The president and wardens of the Mount Zion Society shall, as soon as conveniently may be, after the passing of this Act, cause the members thereof to be summoned to meet at the usual place in Charleston, at such time as they shall think proper, not less than thirty days nor more than sixty days after such notice, for the purpose of choosing thirteen fit and proper persons out of their own body, to act as trustees of the said college, who shall thereafter be called and known by the name of the "Trustees of the Mount Zion College," and shall be invested with all the powers and authorities hereinafter mentioned and declared; which said trustees shall continue in office three years, and no longer; and shall in like manner be elected every three years forever.

3. No meeting of the trustees shall be valid or legal for the despatch of any business whatsoever, unless there shall be seven of the number present.

4. No meeting of the said trustees shall be valid or legal for deciding any new question which may arise, or for determining upon any matter or thing which shall appear to be out of the usual track or established course of business, unless the clerk or other officer of the trustees for that purpose to be appointed, shall have duly and legally notified each and every trustee of such meeting, and shall, before the entering upon any business, under his hand certify such notification.

5. The head or principal of the said college shall be called and styled "The President," and the masters thereof shall be called and styled "Professors;" but neither president nor professors, while they remain such, shall ever be capable of holding the office of trustee.

6. The trustees appointed as aforesaid shall have regular and stated meetings for the despatch of business, at such times and at such places as they, or a quorum of them, shall appoint.

7. Six or more of the said trustees shall have full power and authority to call occasional meetings of the Board whenever it shall appear to them necessary.

8. The said trustees, or a quorum of them, (according to the provision hereinbefore,) being regularly convened, shall be capable of doing and transacting all the business and concerns of the said colleges respectively, and particularly of electing and appointing the president and professors, of appointing a treasurer, secretary, stewards, managers, and all other necessary and customary officers, for the taking care of the estate and managing the concerns of the institution, of fixing and ascertaining their several salaries and stipends, and removing or displacing any or all of them for misconduct or malversation in office, of prescribing the course of studies to be pursued, and in general of framing, establishing, and enacting all such orders, rules, statutes, and ordinances, as shall appear to them necessary for the good government of the said colleges, not repugnant to the laws of this State.

9. The presidents and professors, or a majority of them, shall be styled and called the "Faculty of the Colleges," which faculty shall have the power of enforcing the rules and regulations adopted by the trustees for the government of the pupils, by rewarding or censuring them, and finally by suspending such of them as after repeated admonitions shall continue disobedient and refractory, until the determination of a quorum of trustees can be had.

10. No person shall be eligible as a trustee of the said colleges unless he shall profess the Christian protestant religion; but none shall be excluded from any other liberty, privilege, or immunity, of the said colleges, whether as principal, professor, or pupil, on account of his religious persuasion; provided he shall demean himself in a sober, peaceable, and orderly manner, and shall conform to the rules and regulations of the said colleges respectively.

VI. And be it further enacted by the authority aforesaid, That the said trustees, or the major part of them, shall have full power, by the presidents of the said colleges respectively, or any other of the faculty deputed by them to grant and confer such degree or degrees in the liberal arts and sciences, to any of the students of the said colleges, or to any others by them, thought worthy thereof, as are usually granted and conferred in other colleges in Europe or America, and to give diplomas or certificates thereof, signed by them, and sealed with the common seal of the society, to authenticate and perpetuate the memory of such graduation.

VII. And whereas, for the adequate maintenance and support of said college at Winnsborough, it is necessary that the power of the Mount
